Savion Glover: “Bare Soundz” Review

By Raymond Gallardo

Savion Glover sure was happy, his feet showed it all. The performance sounded like an everlasting thunderstorm; it was wonderful! The crowd was going wild while his feet were on fire with tap. This was the first tap dance show I've attend. It was a great one to be the first to see.

The thunderstorm of the performers' feet was like non-stop raindrops. Rain and tap are a lot alike; they both can make music and entertain people in their own way.

Savion Glover is a very good dancer. He was tearing the dance floor up. If you ever have the chance to see him, it would be your money well spent. The roaring of his feet were the feeling of a thunderstorm. My heart was pumping with the roaring. Savion has been dancing all of his life and he is also a singer. He gave us a little sample of the way he sings at the show. He is so talented that he sang and danced at the same time. He is also a funny guy. He knows how to keep the crowd on their feet.

Throughout the show I could tell that the people around me could feel the beat. They were roaring with their feet! The show was like a growing thunderstorm and every tap was like a raindrop.

When I was a little kid I thought tapping was for girls but now that I have seen Savion Glover that has changed the way I see tap dancing. When Savion was singing and dancing I knew that anyone who sets their mind to do something can do it. Or even if they want to prove someone wrong they will be able to do so as well. So if you ever get to see Savion Glover dance and or sing, don't pass it up. Take the opportunity to watch him. There is nothing better than to listen to the thunder taps that everyone in the crowd make and the taps that the stage makes. Everyone feels apart of the show.
